Overview

Analysis software is one of the most essential tools an acoustics expert needs for his daily work. And good tools must be cared for. For this reason, almost all of our customers decide to conclude a software maintenance contract for the ArtemiS SUITE.

The software maintenance and update contract for the ArtemiS SUITE covers the maintenance, adaptation and extension, i.e. new developments and improvements, of the ArtemiS SUITE software.

Features

- Automatic yearly delivery of new software releases
- Investment protection
- Premium support
- Discounts on multiple licenses
- A maintenance contract makes your work easier: New software releases include new tools helping you to get your work done more efficiently.
- A maintenance contract saves you money: With its discounts on multi-user licenses, the maintenance contract is less expensive than individual updates if you have several licenses, and you are always using the latest ArtemiS SUITE version. In addition, these discounts also apply to newly purchased licenses if you have concluded a maintenance contract for your existing ArtemiS SUITE licenses.

Your advantages

- With a maintenance contract you are protecting your investment: A maintenance contract includes the automatic delivery of new software releases, which provide new features and guarantee that your ArtemiS SUITE is always up to date. This includes support of new operating systems, new computer hardware and new front-ends.
- With a maintenance contract you are a premium customer: The wishes and suggestions from customers with maintenance contracts are treated with high priority regarding the selection of new features for an ArtemiS SUITE update.
- A maintenance contract guarantees you premium support by the trained experts of our support department: Efficient technical support is only possible for up-to-date software products. If you are using an old software version, our support team will help you as well, but we cannot guarantee the same competence and speed in this case.
